Today is Guy Fawkes Night

Remember, Remember the 5th of November

On October 26, an anonymous letter advising a Catholic sympathizer to avoid the State Opening of Parliament alerted the authorities to the existence of a plot. To this day, no one knows for sure who wrote the letter. Some historians have even suggested that it was fabricated and that the authorities already knew of the Gunpowder Plot, only letting it progress as an excuse to further crack down on Catholicism. Either way, a search party found Fawkes skulking in his cellar around midnight on November 4, with matches in his pocket and 36 barrels of gunpowder stacked next to him. For Fawkes, the plot's failure could be blamed on "the devil and not God." He was taken to the Tower of London and tortured upon the special order of King James. Soon after, his co-conspirators were likewise arrested, except for four, including Catesby, who died in a shootout with English troops.

Fawkes and his surviving co-conspirators were all found guilty of high treason and sentenced to death in January 1606 by hanging, drawing and quartering. A Jesuit priest was also executed a few months later for his alleged involvement, even as new laws banned Catholics from voting in elections, practicing law or serving in the military. In fact, Catholics were not fully emancipated in England until the 19th century.

After the plot was revealed, Londoners began lighting celebratory bonfires, and in January 1606 an act of Parliament designated November 5 as a day of thanksgiving. Guy Fawkes Day festivities soon spread as far as the American colonies, where they became known as Pope Day. In keeping with the anti-Catholic sentiment of the time, British subjects on both sides of the Atlantic would burn an effigy of the pope. That tradition completely died out in the United States by the 19th century, whereas in Britain Guy Fawkes Day became a time to get together with friends and family, set off fireworks, light bonfires, attend parades and burn effigies of Fawkes. Children traditionally wheeled around their effigies demanding a "penny for the Guy" (a similar custom to Halloween trick-or-treating) and imploring crowds to "remember, remember the fifth of November."

Building Fund

As always thanks for the amazing donations and thanks to the BBQ team.

We have set a target of $100,000 for our building fund, we are determining what is required long term.

Anyone with fund raising ideas please talk to the committee.

The balance of the current account is $8321.93 an increase due to a grant of $3000.00 from the City of Casey. Building fund will benefit from the donation of $5000.00 from the Dandenong Club. A further grant of $5000.00 is on its way from the Casey Cardinia Foundation Ltd.

Thanks to President Trevor on his excellent work and to member Roger Bartlett for the Dandenong Club grant.
