Last week

- We had a visit by Emma Lucas from the St Paul Apostle North Primary School to discuss a partnership with the Mens Shed, they have no male teachers at the school which has 183 students from years 3,4,5 and 6. The school is within walking distance of the new shed and we arranged to contact them when we move in.
- The fishing trip has been cancelled, Garrick will look at Westernport Bay options and report back to the meeting.
- The committee had a meeting on Sunday and now recommends option A to the members for the new shed.
- Treasurer John presented the proposal to the members using a whiteboard presentation (brave man). A vote of the members unanimously agrees on option A. Paul will continue negotiations with Angie at Council.
- Andras reminded members of the bowling at the Dandenong club on Friday evening with a meal available, partners are welcome.

Apologies to Neil and Graeme who had birthdays on 24th February, not the 5th as published last week.

Happy Birthday – Peter Spry 's birthday on 2nd March

Our NEW Shed

Negotiations are proceeding at a rapid rate and we expect to have the documents signed this week, they will then be signed by council and the Minister's Office which will take about 2 weeks.

Bowling at the Dandenong Club

From our NSW member Ray Stewart

Q: How do you know a plane full of tennis players has just landed?

A: The whining doesn't stop when they turn off the engines.

My wife suffers from chronic, debilitating headaches.

Anyway, enough about her... back to drum practice.

It's not me who can't keep a secret. It's the people I tell.

"Now listen carefully - because I've been told not to repeat this."

At the last job I applied for I was interviewed by the personnel officer, and at the end of lengthy questioning he asked, "do you have a war record?" "Yes", I said, "Vera Lynn, singing White Cliffs of Dover".

An invisible man married an invisible woman. The kids were nothing to look at either.

I didn't think the chiropractor would improve my posture. But, I stand corrected.

I took my new girlfriend out on our first date to the ice rink, and entry was half price.

She called me a cheap skate.

My wife claims I'm the cheapest person she's ever met. I'm not buying it.

I told my carpenter I didn't want carpeted steps. He gave me a blank stair.

Bob checked into his hotel room and immediately noticed a dead cockroach on the floor.

He called the front desk, asked for the Manager and raised a fuss.

"Sir, please calm down," the Manager replied. It's dead; it can't bother you now."

"The dead one doesn't bother me," said Bob. "It's his pallbearers."

A man returned to his doctor to hear the results of his annual check-up.

"Your check-up results were great," the doctor said, "but is there anything that you'd like to talk about or ask me?" "Well," he said, "I was thinking about getting a vasectomy."

"That's a pretty big decision," the doctor replied. "Have you talked it over with your family?"

"Yeah, and they're in favour 15 to 2."

One Christmas, a mother asked her young daughter if she could name two of Santa's reindeer.

"Rudolph and Olive" replied the young girl confidently.

"Rudolph and Olive?" said the mother, quizzically. "Are you sure?"

"Yes, mum, Rudolph, and Olive. Like in the song."

"The song?" asked the mother. "What song?"

The girl sang, "Rudolph the red-nosed reindeer, had a very shiny nose.

And if you ever saw it, you would even say it glows. Olive the other reindeer... "
