Musos @ Midday

Last week was the all too easy Quiz. I'm quite sure that AJ could do a much better job and confuse not only the "smarty pants" but the "I must have been sick that day" members.

My son wanted to borrow my cordless drill. 'Here you go boy use grandads'..... 😄

Then into the Workshop for a “Sticky Beak” Remember “if you make a mess clean it up.”

Our President, Doug is recovering after a medical procedure, wishing him a speedy recovery.

After General Announcements and Weekly News AJ & JT ran an enjoyable Quiz session that was won by the Naughty Boys table by one point.

After a hearty BBQ lunch managed by Stan, the chaps started assembling and connecting two new machines. A larger Wood Lathe and a Sand Blasting machine.

Carmelo showed off his two new wooden creations, one is a sample for the SES.

Music Group had many listening and enjoying the talents of our ever-growing band.

More members getting involved and no “Plumbers Cracks”

Wait till the others get a whiff.

Remember if you make a mess clean it up!

Carmelo working for the SES

Remember if you make a mess clean it up! That includes the Kitchen. You toast your sandwich in the Sandwich Press clean it and the bench and put it away!!!!!!

You Know who
Stan Ashley doing what he does

Another Thursday down and after the exercises and general talkfest it was time for three more of the first-round games in our Pool competition.

“Gones” were Peter W who lost to Wal but luckily Pete then had time to heat up the scones. Then Rod and Tony completed their match from last week with Rodney already gone but playing for future handicap. Earlier

John T was also gone at the hands of Romy. Finally, Ian (Green Machine without steam) rolled Derek, and we enjoyed the day as usual. The scones were terrific.
Greek feast next Thursday so bring your money one and all.
